Ruidoso/Lincoln County Association of REALTORS® Installs New Leadership and Honors Award Winners

The Ruidoso/Lincoln County Association of REALTORS® (RLCAR) recently installed its new leadership team as well as members of the 2019 Board of Directors and Executive Committee during its annual Awards and Installation dinner with Sean Simpson of Coldwell Banker SDC installed as President of this 170-member organization. The 10-member volunteer Board of Directors oversees the operations of the organization whose mission focuses on providing their members with the education and resources to enable them to conduct business ethically, professionally, and successfully. The Association promotes the value of using a REALTOR® and serves the communities in Lincoln County by being the leading advocate of the real estate industry, home ownership, private property rights and real property issues.

The formal installation ceremony was held at the Alto Lakes Golf and Country Club on November 10th. Installed as directors and officers of the 2019 RLCAR Board, in addition to Simpson as President, were: President-Elect Troy Briggs of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Lynch Realty, Secretary/Treasurer Kim McClure of Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Lynch Realty, Immediate Past President Cynthia Clayton Davis of Juniper Ridge Realty, Directors Kelli Shelton of Southern New Mexico Realty, Leroy Smith of Coldwell Banker SDC, Stacy Turney of Mossy Oak Properties NM Ranch and Luxury LLC, Robert Moroney of MKKB Real Estate, Bill Hirschfeld of A+ Realty and James Paxton of Century 21 Aspen Real Estate.

The Ruidoso/Lincoln County Association of REALTORS® also recognized their 2018 Annual REALTOR® of the Year winner Mary Austin of Coldwell Banker SDC. The REALTOR® of the Year Award annually recognizes the best in REALTOR® spirit, business accomplishments, commitment and involvement in the REALTOR® Association, and participation in civic and community affairs.
